ABOUT THE PRODUCTION

The Killing of a Sacred Deer filmed in Cincinnati, Ohio in summer 2016. The film reunites Colin Farrell with writer/director/producer Yorgos Lanthimos, following the critical and commercial success of The Lobster. Nicole Kidman also stars as the wife of Farrell's character, along with Barry Keoghan ('71), Raffey Cassidy (Tomorrowland), Sunny Suljic (The Unspoken), Bill Camp (12 Years A Slave) and Alicia Silverstone (Clueless). The film is also produced by Ed Guiney and Andrew Lowe's Element Pictures, the producers of The Lobster and Oscar-winner Room. Lanthimos and his regular collaborator, Efthimis Filippou, co-wrote the project. Farrell stars as Steven, a charismatic surgeon forced to make an unthinkable sacrifice after his life starts to fall apart, when the behaviour of a teenage boy he has taken under his wing turns sinister. The film is financed by Film4 and the Irish Film Board, who also were financiers of The Lobster, and New Sparta Films, whose involvement was brokered by HanWay Films. The project was developed by Element Pictures and Film4. HanWay Films is worldwide sales agent, and A24 are on board as US distributor, following their release of The Lobster last year. The Lobster won the Cannes Jury Prize in 2015 and received a nomination for Best Original Screenplay at this year's Oscars®. Dogtooth won Un Certain Regard at Cannes in 2009, before going on to receive an Oscar® nomination for Best Foreign Language Film. Lanthimos has just finished shooting The Favourite, starring Emma Stone, Rachel Weisz and Olivia Colman.

SYNOPSIS

Steven (Colin Farrell), an eminent cardiothoracic surgeon is married to Anna (Nicole Kidman), a respected ophthalmologist. They are well off and live a happy and healthy family life with their two children, Kim, 14 (Raffey Cassidy) and Bob, 12 (Sunny Suljic). Steven has formed a friendship with Martin (Barry Keoghan), a fatherless 16 year-old boy whom he has taken under his wing. Things take a sinister turn when Steven introduces Martin to his family, gradually throwing their world into turmoil and forcing Steven to make a shocking sacrifice or run the risk of losing everything.

Biographies

COLIN FARRELL

Steven Murphy

Farrell first teamed up with Yorgos Lanthimos in The Lobster, starring opposite Rachel Weisz. The film won the Jury Prize at the 68th Cannes Film Festival and was nominated for a 2016 BAFTA. Farrell was also nominated for Best Performance by an Actor in a Motion Picture – Musical or Comedy at the 2017 Golden Globe Awards, Best Actor at the 2015 British Independent Film Awards (BIFAs) and Best European Actor at the 2015 European Film Awards (EFAs). Farrell stars opposite Nicole Kidman again in Sofia Coppola's The Beguiled, alongside Elle Fanning and Kirsten Dunst. The story follows a wounded Union soldier who is taken into a Southern girls' academy, and whose presence sets in motion a tragedy of jealousy, hate and lust. Farrell has recently shot the legal drama Inner City opposite Denzel Washington, written and directed by Dan Gilroy, and the drama Widows, directed by Steve McQueen, starring opposite Viola Davis. Later in 2017, he is set to join Danny DeVito in Tim Burton's Dumbo. Farrell was recently seen in Fantastic Beasts And Where To Find Them, written by JK Rowling and starring Eddie Redmayne and Ezra Miller. A native of Ireland, Colin Farrell continues to turn heads in Hollywood. In 2009, Farrell won a Golden Globe for his role in In Bruges and later reteamed with director Martin McDonough for Seven Psychopaths. Farrell's other past work includes Miss Julie; Saving Mr. Banks; Winter's Tale; Dead Man Down; Total Recall; The Way Back; London Boulevard; Fright Night; the comedy HORRIBLE BOSSES; ONDINE. Other films he has been seen in include Gavin O'Connor's Pride And Glory; Woody Allen's Cassandra's Dream; Miami Vice; Oliver Stone's Alexander; Terrence Malick's The New World; Ask The Dust; The Recruit; A Home At The End Of The World, and two roles in Joel Schumacher's films Phone Booth and Tigerland. Earlier film credits include Minority Report, Daredevil, American Outlaws, Swat and Intermission. In 2015, he made his TV debut in the second season of HBO's True Detective. Born and raised in Castletknock in the Republic of Ireland, Colin Farrell is the son of Eamon Farrell and nephew of Tommy Farrell, who were both professional Irish football players in the 1960s. It was Farrell's early teenage ambition to follow in his father and uncle's footsteps, however his interest soon turned towards acting and he joined the Gaiety School of Drama in Dublin. Before completing his course, Farrell landed a starring role in Deirdre Purcell's miniseries Falling For A Dancer, a starring role in the BBC series Ballykissangel. A role in Tim Roth's directorial debut The War Zone followed soon after. Colin Farrell currently lives in Los Angeles.

NICOLE KIDMAN

Anna Murphy

Academy Award® winning actress Nicole Kidman first came to the attention of American audiences with her critically acclaimed performance in Phillip Noyce's riveting 1989 Australian psychological thriller, Dead Calm. Kidman has since become an internationally-recognised, award-winning actress known for her range and versatility. In 2002, Kidman was honoured with her first Oscar nomination for her performance in Baz Luhrmann's innovative musical, Moulin Rouge! For that role, and her performance in writer/director Alejandro Amenabar's psychological thriller The Others, she received dual 2002 Golden Globe nominations, winning for Best Actress in a Musical. In 2003, Kidman won an Academy Award®, a Golden Globe award, a BAFTA award and a Berlin Silver Bear for her portrayal of Virginia Woolf in Stephen Daldry's The Hours. In 2010, Kidman starred opposite Aaron Eckhart in Rabbit Hole, for which she received Academy Award®, Golden Globe, Screen Actors Guild and Independent Spirit Award nominations for Best Actress. The film was developed by Kidman's production company, Blossom Films. In 2012, Kidman starred in Lee Daniels' The Paperboy with Matthew McConaughey, Zac Efron and John Cusack. Her performance earned her AACTA International, Screen Actors Guild and Golden Globe nominations. In 2014, Kidman was seen in Grace Of Monaco, which earned her a SAG nomination. Other recent films include: The Secret In Their Eyes, The Family Fang with Jason Bateman, which she also produced, and Genius alongside Colin Firth. Kidman was most recently seen in The Weinstein Company's Lion with Dev Patel, for which she received Critics' Choice, Globe, SAG, BAFTA and Oscar nominations. She will next be seen in The Beguiled and How To Talk To Girls At Parties. In television, Kidman was seen starring in HBO's Hemingway And Gellhorn alongside Clive Owen in 2012. Her portrayal as Martha Gellhorn earned her Emmy, SAG and Golden Globe nominations. Kidman returned to the small screen in 2017 with the limited series Big Little Lies alongside Reese Witherspoon for HBO (Kidman's Blossom Films and Witherspoon's Pacific Standard produced the project). She will be seen in the second season of Top Of The Lake (SundanceTV/BBC Two) in late 2017. In theatre, Kidman made a highly-lauded London stage debut in 1998, starring with Iain Glen in The Blue Room, David Hare's modern adaptation of Schnitzler's La Ronde. For her performance Kidman won the London Evening Standard Theatre Award and was nominated in the Best Actress category for a Laurence Olivier Award. In 2015, Kidman was seen on the West End stage in Anna Ziegler's Photograph 51, for which she received a London's Evening Standard Theatre Award. In January of 2006, Kidman was awarded Australia's highest honour, the Companion in the Order of Australia. She was also named, and continues to serve, as Goodwill Ambassador of the United Nations Development Fund for Women, UN Women, whose goals are to foster women's empowerment and gender equality, to raise awareness of the infringement on women's human rights around the world and to end violence against women. Along with her husband, Keith Urban, she has helped raise millions over the years for the Women's Cancer Program which is a world-renowned centre for research into the causes, treatment, prevention, and eventual cure of women's cancer.

BARRY KEOGHAN

Martin

Irish actor Barry Keoghan plays one of the young leads opposite Tom Hardy, Mark Rylance, Kenneth Branagh and Cillian Murphy in Christopher Nolan's forthcoming Dunkirk. Keoghan was one of the breakout stars of Sundance Film Festival 2016 for his performance in Rebecca Daly's Mammal opposite Rachel Griffiths. He was named one of Screen International's Stars of Tomorrow in 2015, following roles in Yann Demange's '71 opposite Jack O'Connell and Martin Radich's Norfolk. He was most recently seen in Adam Smith's Trespass Against Us, which premiered at the 2016 Toronto International Film Festival, with Michael Fassbender and Brendan Gleeson. Keoghan will next be seen in a lead role in Bart Layton's feature American Animals for Film 4 alongside Evan Peters. Keoghan was also nominated for Rising Star at the 2017 Irish Film and Television Awards.

RAFFEY CASSIDY

Kim Murphy

British actress Raffey Cassidy was a Screen International Star of Tomorrow in 2013. Cassidy's breakthrough role was her appearance alongside George Clooney in Tomorrowland (2015). She had previously played the Young Snow White in Snow White And The Huntsman (2012) alongside Kristen Stewart, Chris Hemsworth and Charlize Theron. She also played one of Jeremy Piven's daughters in the TV series Mr Selfridge. Other credits include Robert Zemeckis's Allied and Tim Burton's Dark Shadows.

SUNNY SULJIC

Bob Murphy

Atlanta native Sunny Suljic's first on-screen appearance was in the hit drama series, Criminal Minds. The young actor's work in television soon led to film work, including a starring role in writer-director Sheldon Wilson's 2015 horror film, The Unspoken. Suljic also stars in a forthcoming Sony video game, and he will soon be seen in Gus Van Sant's He Won't Get Far On Foot, opposite Rooney Mara, Jonah Hill, Jack Black and Joaquin Phoenix. An avid skateboarder from an early age, Sunny is also one of the youngest professionals in the sport, winning numerous competitions. He currently resides in LA with his mother and sister.

BILL CAMP

Matthew Williams

Bill Camp most recently starred in the HBO series The Night Of, alongside John Turturro and Riz Ahmed directed by Steve Zaillian and written by Richard Price. He will soon be seen playing FBI veteran Robert Chesney in the upcoming Hulu series The Looming Tower, based on Lawrence Wright's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel that chronicles the events that led to the September 11 terrorist attacks. Camp recently filmed the Francis Lawrence-directed spy thriller Marble, based on Jason Matthew's espionage novel. Additionally, Camp will be seen in the forthcoming The Land Of Steady Habits, written and directed by Nicole Holofcener. He also shot a pivotal role in Molly's Game directed by Aaron Sorkin and co-starred alongside Jake Gyllenhaal and Carey Mulligan in Wildlife, Paul Dano's directorial debut. Other upcoming films include Woman Walks Ahead directed by Susanna White and Scott Cooper's Hostiles. This will be his second time working with Cooper following Black Mass. In recent years, Camp has had key roles in Midnight Special and Loving, both from writer-director Jeff Nichols, as well as Jason Bourne, directed by Paul Greengrass.
